

A-roll • B-roll • filler words • lower third • transcript • VO

1. _____ is your interview/stand-up footage; _____ is supporting footage that adds visual context.
2. A _____ turns your footage into searchable text — read it to find every one of your subject's _____ and cut them fast.
3. The reporter's voice track laid over footage is called _____.
4. A graphic identifying an interview subject's name and title, placed near the bottom of the screen, is a _____.

Discuss: A transcript can show you filler words, but what kind of editing problem can't a transcript catch on its own?
