1. Name your file clearly (client/project name, not "Untitled-1").
2. Run File > Package and choose a destination folder.
3. Open the package folder—confirm a Links subfolder, a Fonts subfolder, and the document are all present.
4. Read the summary report—note any flagged restricted fonts below:

5. Check for releases—does this project use a photo of an identifiable person or a distinctive private location? If so, is a model/location release on file?

6. Confirm linked assets copied correctly—no missing-link warnings when you reopen the packaged copy.

A restricted font isn't a mistake to fix—it's a flag that the client will need a substitute font or their own license for that font.
